About the event

With the focus of the symposium on contemporary issues in knowledge translation and implementation in evidence based health care, the purpose of the event is to provide early healthcare researchers with opportunities to learn from experienced researchers about how to translate their research into practice and, to facilitate discussion and networking for all clinicians and healthcare researchers.

The symposium is an opportunity for attendees to present their latest evidence-based research, as well as to attend lectures from nationally recognised key note speakers invited to give their expertise surrounding the translation and implementation of knowledge. We welcome innovative research from all clinicians, including nursing, medical and allied health.

Keynote speakers

Associate Professor Zoe Jordan

Associate Professor Ping Yu

Professor Sandy Middleton
