

Joanna Briggs Institute Comprehensive Systematic Review Training Workshop

presented by the Queen's Collaboration for Health Care Quality

April 23-27, 2018
Queen's University

The Queen's Collaboration for Health Care Quality (formerly named Queen's Joanna Briggs Collaboration) offers comprehensive systematic review training (CSRT) featuring the Joanna Briggs Institute methodology for evidence synthesis. The intensive, 5-day workshop is designed to prepare health sciences researchers, clinicians, librarians, graduate students and other individuals involved in quality and practice portfolios to develop, conduct and report systematic reviews of evidence.

To register & for more information visit:

www.queensu.ca/qjbc/systematic-review-training

$1500 CAD +
tax/person

Instructors:

Christina Godfrey, RN PhD, Scientific Director and Senior Methodologist QcHcQ, Assistant Professor, School of Nursing, Queen's University

Kim Sears, RN PhD, Deputy Director QcHcQ, Associate Professor, Associate Director, Healthcare Quality Programs, Queen's University

Amanda Ross-White, MLIS, AHIP, Library Scientist, QcHcQ, Health Sciences Librarian, Queen's University

Successful participants will be certified JBI reviewers. Attendance of the entire workshop is required.

Workshop fee includes materials, breaks, refreshments and lunches.*

Contact us at qjbc@queensu.ca